

Hello Y4SJ,

Hope you are all ok!

I am thinking of you all and miss you already. I hope you are still working hard even though you are not at school.

Well done for doing all your Doodling so far – you’ve obviously been working really hard and I can see that lots of you have already done all the homework tasks for the first week at home. I can also see that you have been busy with the work you’ve completed for Mrs Jefferis on Purple Mash about the Anglo Saxons. I can’t wait to see your Purple Mash work next week.

I hope you are working hard on your writing tasks – I can’t wait to see them when you come back to school. Hopefully you’ve written all your work in your red book that you were given recently or have stuck your writing in it once you’ve finished it. I’m looking forward to seeing some great descriptions of your Viking long boats as well as your leaflet and a recount of a day in the life of a Viking. Hopefully you’ve been able to research some extra information and I’m sure you’ve been able to draw some great pictures.

I hope you have been tuning into Joe Wicks each day and completing his daily work outs! They have certainly been a challenge for me and I’ve been doing extra fitness at home as I’m not cycling to work so much anymore. I even did my usually fitness class yesterday evening with the instructor on the iPad – it was quite strange but I still did it.

These pictures are what I’ve been doing - some yoga to keep fit (not me in the picture I’m afraid!) and eating chocolate cake because I love cake.

If you are having problems logging onto to Doodle, please ask your grown up to email the office and we will do our best to sort things out for you.

Don’t forget to check the website each Friday, for details of your home learning for the following week.

Remember to check the home page of the website for a weekly video message.

There are lots of extra things you can do at home to help your learning and here are some ideas of things to watch as well:

David Walliams is doing a story time session every day at 11am on his website.

Carol Vorderman is doing some Maths on her website.

Take care and I’ll be in touch again next week,

Mrs Singleton
